

100-Yard Cast Bullet and .22 Rimfire “Bench” Matches

“SUMMARY” of the differences and “restrictions” among the five different
“DIVISIONS” in the .22 Rimfire “CLASS”

	DIVISION	TYPE OF RIFLE	SIGHTS	AMMO	RESTS, BAGS, etc.
“TARGET”
i.e. , a target-style rifle with a heavy-contour barrel.	Target- Scoped Division	Any action ... i.e. , bolt, single shot, auto-loading (e.g. , Ruger 10/22), lever, etc.	Any optic ... e.g. , scope, red dot, holographic, etc. No restrictions on scope power.	No restrictions.	No restrictions on FRONT rests, bags, bipods, etc. REAR bag permitted. No one-piece rests (e.g. , Caldwell “Lead-Sled”).
	Target- Iron Division	Same as Target- Scoped Division.	RESTRICTED Iron sights only . One diopter permitted.	No restrictions.	Same as Target- Scoped Division.
	“Vintage American Smallbore” Division [a/k/a “VAS”]	RESTRICTED Out-of-production USA-made rifle with original action, barrel and stock.	RESTRICTED Iron sights only . One diopter permitted. .	No restrictions.	Same as Target- Scoped Division.
“SPORTER”
i.e. , a sporter-style rifle with a light-weight, or “varmint” contour, barrel.	Sporter- Scoped “ Open ” Division	Same as Target- Scoped Division.	Same as Target- Scoped Division.	No restrictions.	Same as Target- Scoped Division.
	Sporter- Scoped “ Limited ” Division	Same as Target- Scoped Division.	RESTRICTED Maximum scope power of 10x (variables must be turned down to 10x).	RESTRICTED Must be USA-made ammo.	RESTRICTED Same as Target- Scoped Division EXCEPT ... front rest, bag, etc. must be “conventional”-style. Bipods must be “Harris-type.”